

The Illustrator

Bea Enríquez (Madrid, 1982) studied Illustration at the Madrid School of Arts and Crafts No.10. Since 2014 she has been writing her own stories and is fully dedicated to the production of illustrated stories, graphic novels and any type of project that needs a creative mind. In 2018 she won the International Graphic Novel Prize at FNAC-Salamandra Graphic with ¿Dónde estás?.

The Author

Alex Nogués (Barcelona, 1976) is a hydro-geologist and also studied nutrition. He is the father of two small children. He says it's the best job he's ever had. He likes bugs – all kinds of bugs – and also reading. He also likes to write. His original stories are increasingly being recognised in the publishing scene.

This Book is Not for You

The friends of our heroine warn her not to open this book, not to turn another page. But she ignores this wise advice and decides to face the dangers that lie in wait for her on each new page: disgusting aliens, bloodthirsty pirates, hungry crocodiles, mutant snails...

A book full of adventures and incredible situations suitable only for intrepid children and, above all, very very brave ones.

- Topics: Books, courage, adventures, fear, monsters, pirates
- Narrator directly addresses the reader of the book, interactive reading fun
