

The Author & Illustrator

Antje Damm, born in Wiesbaden in 1965, studied Architecture in Wiesbaden and lives near Gießen with her husband and their four daughters. One senses her strong bond to children and their way of thinking in all of her books. Her question book Ask me! has already seen ten editions and has been translated into 14 languages.

REVIEWS

“Innovative and thought-prompting, this is a work of true distinction.” - The School Librarian

“Parents will find the book excitingly open-ended, while children are simultaneously challenged and charmed.” - Time Out

“This is a deceptively simple book which is an absolute treasure.” - Bookseller

A super book for practitioners and parents to share, even if you only look at and talk about the interesting photos, pictures and images that correlate with each question - they are marvels in themselves.” - Early Years Educator

Ask me!

118 questions to start a conversation

Here are more than 100 questions, accompanied by rich and varied images that are designed to stimulate conversation between parents and children. The questions are provocative, the images sometimes startling, sometimes beautiful, and always mesmerizing. This little book deserves a place on every family's bookshelf.

Reading the questions, and looking at the pictures, each child will have different answers to give, and things to ask. “It is hard to imagine better language promotion and boost of understanding”, the Stuttgarter Zeitung judged this collection of questions. In kindergartens, elementary schools—but also when working with elderly persons—the book has become a classic.
